The reigning film in China in the year 2015 is "Reign Of Assassins". This movie was filmed in different provinces of China like Ningxia, Hebei, Beijing, Liaoning and etc. There are two main parts in this movie that are set at different times; one is set during the Ming Dynasty (1368-1644) and one is set during Republican Era (1911-1949). In order to make this movie better and more believable the director spent a lot of time studying about Turkey culture which made it possible for him to make those scenes as lifelike as possible. One of the most important things for the second part of this movie is that they needed to rely on real soldiers' combat images which came from the Chinese Army. So after year 2012 their history institute have gathered a lot of war photos and also they have made sure that all the images are real because if it's not, then this whole movie will be in danger. During this time period China was facing a threat from Mongols which are still living in China. This is a huge threat for the whole China because they were trying to make a partition in china and there were a lot of unrest in the land. This movie has an excellent historical background and also provides a great experience for the actors. One of the main actors called Wu Jing was interviewed by an Indian news channel, Zee24, during this movie launch which was held in Beijing. In that interview he said that this movie reminds him of his grandfather's stories about how he saved chinese from war during that time period. He said that one of his greatest roles in this movie is that he was taking a responsibility to give an excellent performance for the whole population of China. In the beginning of the interview he said that he has been preparing for it for a very long time period because this movie will be a breakthrough in his career. Since this movie is being launched, it has achieved a lot of success and also a great response from the people of China. This movie became the highest grossing Chinese film of all time in China. In China, if you are trying to make a film related to ancient history then you have to get permission from their ministry and also from different archives. This movie is a good example of what they have achieved in the recent years. This movie is going to be a great breakthrough in the history of Chinese movies. In this era of the movies, when you are making a film then if it has a great story then that's all that matters. That's why Wu Jing said that nowadays there are not many people who want to spend their time on actually making a historical film because most people think that these kind of movies will never make a difference in its market and also they think that no one will be interested in watching it.
